Sapna calls Salman.....!

Mukesh Ambani, not Manmohan Singh, runs India: IAC

Opposition party BJP has asked Prime Minister Manmohan Singh to come clear on India Against Corruption's charge about his government's ties with Reliance and the reasons behind S Jaipal Reddy's removal from the Petroleum Ministry.

Reliance industries hit back at Arvind Kejriwal for his claims that Mukesh Ambani was controlling the government. In its statement issued, Reliance said that statements made by IAC were devoid of any truth. Reliance said that the KG D6 basin has best technology and that the project has added great economic value to the country. "Allegations made by IAC are at the behest of vested interests," it said.

In its latest expose, the Indian Against Corruption attacked the Mukesh Ambani-led Reliance Industries, alleging that successive governments at the Centre had shown favours worth crores of rupees to the company. IAC activist Arvind Kejriwal said the UPA government had extended several undue benefits to RIL. Alleging that the government gave away oil blocks to the business giant at cheaper rates, Kejriwal said that Jaipal Reddy and Mani Shankar Aiyar were shunted out of Petroleum Ministry because they were resisting RIL's "dada-giri". Kejriwal said, "In 2006, Mani Shankar Iyer was removed and Murli Deora was brought in to increase RIL capex from $2.39 billion to $8.8 billion and to increase gas price from $2.34 per mmbtu to $4.2 per mmbtu. It seems Mukesh Ambani runs the government, not Manmohan Singh. Contd Pg 23.

Hydro worker killed during Sandy repairs in Ontario

A veteran hydro worker in south-western Ontario was electrocuted while repairing damage caused by Sandy, as Canadians clean up from the weakening post-tropical storm that continues to swing east, bringing with it heavy rainfall and strong winds. Police say the accident occurred on a residential street near the Lake Huron shoreline in Sarnia. The identity of the worker, who worked for local utility Bluewater Power, was being withheld until the family has been notified. The Ontario Ministry of Labour told CBC News the worker was electrocuted while trying to fix downed power lines. Contd. Pg 5

Mask ban bill passes House of Commons vote

MPs have voted to pass private members' bills to ban masks at riots and to implement a 10-year maximum prison sentence for vandalizing war memorials, as well as a bill to set out priority for payments by offenders who owe money. All three bills had been supported by the government, and now go on to the Senate. The mask ban bill, Bill C-309, passed with the support of government MPs, 153-126. The Opposition opposed the bill, known as the "preventing persons from concealing their identity during riots and unlawful assemblies act."

Blake Richards, the MP for Wild Rose, Alta. who sponsored the bill, said that he wanted to give police another tool with which to target rioters who try to conceal

19th Blood Donation Camp in Sant Nirankari Mission

In keeping with the enthusiasm from the last several years, the Sant Nirankari Mission in Toronto continued to show their support in the blood donation camp held on October 27, 2012 by donating 85 units of blood surpassing the target of 70 units. The camp was at Sant Nirankari Bhawan in Brampton Ontario, with His Holiness Baba Hardev Singh Ji's blessings, the camp was well received by the congregation and the Canadian Blood Services. This was a great service (sewa) that the congregation openly embraced. Raj Chowdhary, first time donor who came to the mission felt very humble and a feeling of gratitude was overwhelming for him. He donated to honor Shawn Bridger, a Realtor who was involved in a snowmobile accident on January 13, 2012 and needed 13 units of blood to save his life. Raj committed to donate repeatedly saying, "I came here first time and after seeing the atmosphere, enthusiasm and commitment of the donors here, I feel I should start donating regularly now." The whole event was organized in a pleasant manner which permitted all age groups to participate. Susan Fennell, Mayor City of Brampton, congratulated the mission by presenting the plack to Sukhbir Bir, General Secretary, Sant Nirankari Mission Canada Inc., and thanked the mission for the dedication to this noble cause.

Jason Kenney, Minister of Citizenship, Immigration and Multiculturalism, issued the following statement to condemn the reprehensible act of violence against the Coptic Orthodox Christian Church of Archangel Michael and St. Tekla in Brampton, Ontario: "Acts of senseless violence against places of worship and their faithful are shameful and outright deplorable. They are contrary to the values that make Canada the best country in the world. Early

Minister Kenney issues statement condemning vandalism against Brampton's Coptic Orthodox Christians

Friday morning, the Brampton Fire Department arrived at the Coptic Orthodox Christian Church of Archangel Michael and St. Tekla after a fire bomb smashed through a church basement window, damaging walls, floors, and furniture. This was the work of cowards. Our thoughts are with the congregation, members of the community in Brampton, and everyone else affected by a despicable act that is punishable under the Criminal Code. Canada is a strong, peaceful, pluralistic nation that will not stand for crimes of intolerance and bigotry. Our country is built upon foundations that include freedom of assembly, freedom of religion, democracy, and the rule of law. As Minister of Citizenship, Immigration and Multiculturalism, I call on all Canadians to categorically reject all forms of intolerance and bigotry against communities of faith, and I ask that anyone with information please contact the appropriate authorities."

John Vernile,

at Hyundai
Auto Canada
Corp.

The Automobile Journalists Association of Canada (AJAC) announced that the 2013 Elantra GT and 2013

Santa Fe have been named Best New Small Car over $21,000 and Best New SUV/CUV $35,000-$60,000, respectively. In just the past year, Hyundai has earned five AJAC category wins in addition to the title of 2012 Canadian Car of the Year with the Elantra sedan. With these most recent category awards, the Elantra GT and Santa Fe are now in contention for the titles of 2013 Canadian Car and Utility Vehicle of the Year. "Hyundai's long list of recent awards and accolades are a reflection of the overall strength of our product range," said Steve Kelleher, President and CEO of Hyundai Auto Canada Corp. "Hyundai engineers from around the world work tirelessly to develop the best vehicles possible. The awards for the Elantra GT and Santa Fe are further vindication for the many hours they have invested in bringing them to the market." Elantra GT and Santa Fe were among the over 60 new models tested by more than 80 automotive journalists during a grueling one-week annual event known as "Test Fest." Hyundai's entries were put to the test in a variety of environments, driven back-to-back with the strongest new competitors in the industry.

Nestlé Canada's Quality Street Chocolates Help to Create Brighter Celebrations

To celebrate Diwali, the South Asian 'festival of lights' this November, Nestlé Canada introduces the Quality Street Diwali gift tin. A popular selection of individual chocolate sweets, Quality Street is an excellent gift choice for celebrations and events. "Recognizing the perfect fit between Quality Street chocolates and Diwali, we thought of offering it as a great gifting option during the festival of lights," said Scott McLean, of Nestlé Canada Confectionery marketing. "This is the first such offering by any leading confectionery brand in Canada around Diwali. We are quite pleased to introduce the Quality Street Diwali gift tin to nearly 1.5 million Indo-Canadians." The Quality Street Diwali 725g gift tin is available at select Walmart stores with a high concentration of South Asian customers in Ontario, British Columbia, and Alberta, and at select Save-On-Foods locations in British Columbia. Further details and the list of participating stores may be found at www.diwali.qualitystreet.ca. Diwali is one of the most well-known South Asian festivals. It is known as the 'festival of lights' because houses, shops and public places are decorated with diyas, candles and colourful lights on this occasion. In Canada, as in India, the festival is a time for spring-cleaning, wearing new clothes, and exchanging gifts, sweets and chocolates

An upswing in ties expected

Thought for the Week
"Let food be thy medicine, and let thy medicine be food," Hippocrates

As we prepare to send this issue in Print, Prime Minister Stephen Harper is all geared up to travel to India, a tour that is being viewed as a significant one for Canadian economy. Prime Minister Harper would be in India from November 3-9, 2012 accompanied by Ed Fast, Minister of international trade and Minister for the Asia-Pacific gateway; Joe Oliver, Minister of natural resources; Gerry Ritz, Minister of agriculture and agri-food; Bal Gosal, Minister of state (sport); and Tim Upfal, Minister of state (democratic reform), along with representatives of the business and cultural sectors. This is the Prime Minister's second visit to India. He will visit Agra, New Delhi, Chandigarh & Bangalore. His last visit is remembered for having acknowledged India as an economic power "This south Asian tiger has awoken, and the world is standing in awe." He did highlight the importance that Canada and India have for each other, "Facing the greatest global recession in half a century, our two countries need to work together for our common prosperity." In a press release issued to Media, last week Prime Minister Harper stated, "Canada enjoys a strong working and personal relationship with India but we must further strengthen the links between our two countries. India is a growing economy with enormous potential, and expanding our trade and investment links with India will create jobs, growth and long-term prosperity here in Canada." The visit assumes even greater significance, as in addition to meeting Prime Minister of India Dr. Manmohan Singh, Prime Minister Harper would also address the World Economic Forum on India, an independent international organization involved in improving the state of world by engaging business, political and other leaders. India and Canada formally launched negotiations in November, 2010 for a Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA) to boost bilateral trade and investment. "The CEPA will figure in their meeting...they will discuss to hasten the process," Prime Minister's office said. As per a joint study group report, India and Canada's GDP are likely to get benefit in the range of USD 6 billion and USD 15 billion per year, respectively from the trade pact. "Canada maintains a strong bilateral relationship with India, and the Prime Minister's trip will be focused on further strengthening these ties. Expanding our trade and investment with India, one of the world's fastest growing markets, would mean more opportunities for Canadian companies, more jobs in Canada and increased prosperity," opined Bal Gosal to The Asian Connections Newspaper. With over 1 million Canadians of Indian origin and an estimated 23,000 Indian students currently studying in Canada, India contributes to Canada's economy in its own way being the second largest source of immigrants and foreign students.

Among the Prime Minister's objectives listed in the press release are to triple annual bilateral trade with India — from $5.2 billion to $15 billion — by 2015. With India facing a huge trade deficit and rupee losing its shine to dollar, Canada and India would aspire to achieve the figure however the time frame could be a constrain. Canada intends to become a prime supplier of energy for India, with export of liquefied natural gas to India with an estimated boost for Canadian business by $6 billion. However with India facing challenges on fiscal deficit and exposure on how it has handled its gas allocation with Reliance Industries; it would be on a back foot to turn any such agreement into reality. India's new foreign minister, Salman Khursid is still carrying the baggage of his malpractices with his social organization and would have to prove his expertise, that too if the social activists of India against corruption give him that much of space; who have launched an all out agitation in his riding. The objective of the visit is well defined, and if implanted in right earnest can deliver good for both Canada and India; the timing of the visit is crucial with India facing challenges of its own. And will this visit be able to generate 40,000 jobs for Canada as being anticipated? May be not !!!

Duguid will not seek Ontario Liberal leadership

Scarborough Centre MPP Brad Duguid has announced that he will not seek the leadership of the Ontario Liberal Party. Duguid said he will stay on as economic development minister and plans to seek re-election in his riding in the next provincial election. Duguid said he made the announcement to "get out of the way" in case other potential candidates were awaiting his decision to run. "I'm looking forward to seeing a heck of a good leadership race in this province," he said.

Duguid's announcement comes one day after former cabinet minister George Smitherman announced he would also not seek leadership of the party, saying the job "at this time isn't compatible with my personal objectives." Finance Minister Dwight Duncan and Ottawa Centre MPP and party president Yasir Naqvi have also announced they will not run. The Ontario Liberals have scheduled a leadership convention for the weekend of

Jan. 25 in Toronto to select a replacement to Premier Dalton McGuinty, who announced he would step down earlier this month. No candidates have officially announced their intention to run but Liberal MPPs Glen Murray and Kathleen Wynne are said to be considering running. Former Liberal MPP Sandra Pupatello said last week she is leaning toward entering the race. Special to Asian Connections Newspaper with permission from CBC/Radio-Canada

CROMBIE TO ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES COMMISSION: DON'T SPLIT MALTON!

Ward 5 City Councillor Bonnie Crombie appeared before the federal Electoral Boundaries Commission today to voice her opposition to the proposed electoral boundary changes that will divide Malton. "I believe if the boundaries are accepted as they are currently proposed that the community of Malton and its residents will be negatively affected," said Crombie. "I find it difficult to accept that under the current proposal some Mississauga residents will not be included in a federal Mississauga riding. This does not happen in Toronto or in Ottawa and I do not believe it should happen here in Mississauga." Crombie argued passionately before the Commission that Malton be treated as a whole and that it be included within a Mississauga riding. She implored the Commission to consider the human element when making the new boundaries and not to forget that Malton is a distinct community, with a rich heritage and strong personal bonds. To divide it as is being proposed would be detrimental to the community's unity and to projects like the Malton Business Improvement Area (BIA) and the Community Improvement Plan. "In Mississauga, the founding villages of Port Credit, Streetsville and Clarkson are not being divided. They have been kept intact. Malton is one of the founding villages of Mississauga and deserves the same treatment," said Crombie. "Dividing the community as is being proposed will be detrimental to the residents of this community and to the City of Mississauga. It will send a strong signal that those in Malton - many of whom already feel that they are forgotten - that they are not part of the City of Mississauga."

McGuinty defends Liberal record on gas plants, wind turbines

Premier Dalton McGuinty defends his government's decisions to cancel gas plants in Oakville and Mississauga while limiting the ability of smaller and rural communities to block industrial wind turbines.

McGuinty says comparing the cancelled generating stations to giant wind turbines is like comparing apples and oranges because the gas plants do emit pollution. He says the Oakville gas plant never would have been approved under tougher standards included in the 2009 Green Energy Act.

But the premier didn't offer a similar defence for the Mississauga gas plant, which the Liberal campaign team halted in mid-construction two weeks before last fall's election.

The government has come under heavy fire in some areas for not allowing local councils to have a say over where proposed wind farms are built. But McGuinty says the Liberals changed the rules so any proposed wind turbine projects that do not have local support "will go to the back of the line."

The New Democrats and Tories say taxpayers are stuck with a $1 billion bill for the Liberals' decisions to cancel the two gas plants to save Liberal seats, but the government puts the total cost at $230 million. Special to Asian Connections Newspaper with permission from CBC/Radio-Canada their identities and to provide for harsher penalties for those convicted of wearing a disguise during a riot.

Richards said he has had support from police chiefs in Toronto, Calgary and Victoria, as well as business groups in cities such as Vancouver, which was hit by rioting following the Stanley Cup final two years ago. "They have individuals coming to gatherings of various types and looking to cause trouble and they come with a toolkit. They've got a bag, they've got a mask, they've got a disguise, black clothing, they've got hammers to break windows, objects to throw at the police, things to start fires with," Richards told reporters, "They're there to cause damage on businesses and public property ... and it's those individuals that police need this tool to protect the public from."

Richards said in the case of the Vancouver riots, police have documented 15,000 criminal acts but have been able to lay "very few" charges because they can't identify the people involved. Richards has said the bill won't apply to protests, which are different from unlawful assemblies and riots. An unlawful assembly is a gathering that causes fear. Riots are declared by city officials.

“Implementing a two-year conditional permanent residence period will help deter marriage fraud,”

Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) introduced new spousal immigration sponsorship regulations to reduce the incidence of marriage fraud. The new rules require sponsored spouses who have no children with their sponsor to be in a live-in relationship with their spouse for two years to get full permanent residence status. Under rules in place until this announcement, a sponsored spouse received permanent residence on the day they arrived in Canada, and subsequently could leave their spouse and retain their residency status in Canada. The new rules will not apply to sponsored spouses who have a child with their sponsor on the date of their spousal sponsorship application submission. The regulation also includes an exemption for sponsored spouses or partners who suffer abuse or neglect from their Canadian partner or someone related to their partner. Those not exempt from the regulation must be in a relationship with their sponsoring spouse or partner for two years from the date that they receive their permanent residency or have their status in Canada revoked. “I have consulted widely with Canadians, and especially with victims of marriage fraud, who have told me clearly that we must take action to stop this abuse of our immigration system,” said Citizenship and Immigration Minister Jason Kenney in announcing the new rules. “Sometimes the sponsor in Canada is being duped and sometimes it’s a commercial transaction. Implementing a two-year conditional permanent residence period will help deter marriage fraud, prevent the callous victimization of innocent Canadians and help us put an end to these scams,” added Jason Kenney.

Several large-scale marriage scams have been uncovered in recent years, including the case of over 600 people involved in trading marriage sponsorships for money between 2007 and 2009.

Underemployment bigger issue

A bigger challenge, the report warns, is underemployment of the young, as the proportion of those employed in lower-skilled occupations remained unchanged between 1990 and 2011, despite an increase in educational attainment.

Underemployment, it says, leads to loss of skills, knowledge and abilities, lower income, job dissatisfaction and emotional distress, which may, in turn, have health effects. The CGA-Canada recommends educators and employers cooperate better in tailoring training to meet the needs of business. It also suggests governments strive to improve Canadian competitiveness, in order to promote an increase in higher-paying jobs.

US crawls back to business

Sandy damages 9/11 memorial in New York

Superstorm Sandy inflicted "extensive" damage on the National September 11 Memorial, built at the World Trade Center site in New York to honour those killed in the 2001 attacks, an official said. The memorial's chief executive Joe Daniels said the site had suffered "serious flooding" due to "serious flooding" at the foundation level of the World Trade Center, where a museum is currently under construction. Flooding also hit the visitor center and other facilities. Daniels vowed to perform the necessary repairs and reopen the memorial "as soon as possible."

The US began getting back to normal after monster storm Sandy crippled transportation, knocked out power for millions and killed at least 64 persons in nine states with a massive storm surge and rain that caused epic flooding. Financial markets reopened with New York Mayor

Michael Bloomberg ringing the opening bell at the New York Stock Exchange, and packed buses took residents back to work with the subway system halted after seawater flooded its tunnels. John F. Kennedy and Newark airports reopened with limited service after thousands of flights were cancelled, leaving travellers stuck for days. New York's LaGuardia Airport, the third of the airports that serve the nation's busiest airspace, was flooded and remained closed. It will take days or weeks to recover from the massive power and mass transit outages.

Obama Tied With Romney in New Polls

President Barack Obama and Republican challenger Mitt Romney are tied among likely voters in a national poll released just a week before the Election Day. The Oct. 24-28 survey by the Pew Research Center found Obama and the former governor of Massachusetts each supported by 47 percent, a slight gain for the president from an Oct. 4-7 Pew poll that showed Romney ahead, 49 percent to 45 percent. The poll of 1,495 likely voters released yesterday has an error margin of plus or minus 2.9 percentage points. The latest ABC News/Washington Post tracking poll has Romney ahead, 49 percent to 48 percent. The two candidates had been tied at 49 percent yesterday. The Oct. 26-29 survey of 1,271 likely voters has a margin of error of plus or minus 3.5 percentage points. An NPR News survey Oct. 23-25 also found a virtual tie nationwide, with Romney ahead by one percentage point. In a smaller poll of 12 swing states -- Nevada, Colorado, New Mexico, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Hampshire, Virginia, North Carolina and Florida, Obama led by four points. Both findings were within the survey's margin of error of three points nationally and 4.5 points for the swing states. Gallup's daily tracking poll of about 2,700 likely voters showed Romney ahead yesterday, 51 percent to 46 percent. The survey, taken Oct. 22-28, had a margin of error of plus or minus two percentage points.

Cash-strapped Scotland Yard may sell HQ

London's cash-strapped police force said it was planning to sell its iconic New Scotland Yard headquarters, famous for its revolving sign, to help save 500 million, reported a news agency from England. New Scotland Yard building in Victoria, central London, has been the home of Britain's biggest police force since the 1960s. Now police chiefs are planning to sell the building and move to a smaller headquarters as they try to save 500 million from a 3.6 billion annual budget, following government cuts. Other police stations in London would also be under threat, with five already approved for sale, as the force seeks to dispose of a third of its estate. The Metropolitan police has been tasked by the mayor's office with making savings of 500 million by 2015.

Spelling disaster for UK children

Children in the UK are struggling to write simple and everyday words because of an increasing reliance on spellcheckers, according to a new research. Students, aged seven to 13, failed to spot the difference between words like 'their' and

'there' or 'cloths' and 'clothes', Vineeta Gupta, head of children's dictionaries at The Oxford University Press has been quoted by media in England. They even fail to spell simple words such as 'surprise', and 'excitement' correctly.

BURGLAR ACCIDENTALLY FILMS RAID USING PHONE AS A TORCH

A burglar has been caught red-handed after accidentally filming a breaking on his mobile phone. Emmanuel Jerome, 23, from Newsome, thought he had switched on a torch on his iPhone during the night-time burglary. Instead, he mistakenly recorded the raid on its camera device. He has been sentenced to 44 weeks in prison. Jerome was arrested after trying to break in to another property. Police then found from his phone the video clips of a house in Marsh in Huddersfield, West Yorkshire, which was targeted by a gang of burglars while the owners were on holiday.

In a bizarre claim, a Colombian mother has said that her one-month old son is 'the devil' who breathes fire and has already started walking. Ana Feria Santos, 28, gave birth to her son last month in Lorica, but says her joy quickly turned to fear when she noticed that he had 'several abnormalities' - leading to fears in her community that he is the 'devil in disguise', reported media in US. Much like the 1976 film 'The Omen', Santos said the baby frequently hides around the house, cackles in an 'adult' way and has an 'intimidating' pair of eyes. Her neighbours agree and say that he is capable of producing fire because burn marks have been found on his clothes and a sofa where he regularly sits! It has led to vigilante attacks on Santos and her taxi-driver husband Oscar Palencia Lopez's house.

Alone in cockpits, 2 pilots fall asleep mid-air

Two pilots working for UK airlines have been found to have fallen asleep while in sole charge of passenger planes thousands of feet up in the air. Both men were left alone in the cockpit when co-pilots left the flight deck, the civil aviation authority has revealed. In one of the incidents uncovered after a Freedom of Information request, the captain left to use the toilet. He then tried to call his first officer on a radio link but got no reply. The captain used a code to get back in the cockpit and found the pilot "slumped over the controls", a leading daily from England reported. Another pilot also found himself unable to get back in the cockpit and used the entry code. His first officer had to be shaken awake.

Russian ship with 700 tons of gold ore missing

A vessel with a nine-person crew and 700 tons of gold ore onboard has gone missing in stormy seas off Russia's Pacific Coast. The ship sent a distress call on Sunday as it was sailing from the coastal town of Neran to Feklistov Island in the Sea of Okhotsk. The vessel, hired by mining company Poly-metal, was carrying 700 tons of gold ore from one deposit to another where it was to be processed. Gold ore is the material from which gold is extracted and contains only a small percentage of the precious metal. The company said it has shipped ore via that route before, and there was nothing unusual in shipping it by the sea.

Yash Chopra wished to shoot Katrina in a chiffon saree

The loss of veteran filmmaker Yash Chopra surely has left a big vacuum in the Hindi Film Industry. He was looked upon with huge respect by all. There was not one actor who did not dream of being directed by him. Among the contemporary actresses of our time Katrina Kaif would have the privilege to be shot for a song with Shah Rukh Khan by Yash Chopra himself in his trademark style at the Alps, but sadly that is now not to be. This news was revealed by designer Manish Malhotra. He tweeted, "We were to go to the Swiss Alps to shoot a song with Katrina (Kaif) in chiffon saris. He discussed the saris with passion and used to tell me that 'I want you to be there at the shoot.'". He also added, "I will truly miss my most favourite director and incredible person that Yashji was... I knew him closely and have seen his passion for cinema, colours and costumes. Romance in Indian cinema won't be the same without Yashji".

Sapna calls Salman.....!

If we were thinking that the sixth season of 'Bigg Boss' was any different from its previous editions, then wait. Here's something that will prove that the infamous show can never do without controversies. Celebrity hairstylist Sapna Bhavnani, who has been busy ridiculing the showbiz industry since the show started dared to mouth expletives for the host and superstar Salman Khan. Apparently, the cuss words used by her were edited from the episodes, reported TV channels across India. Salman had asked her, "If you are not here to play the game, are you on a picnic at a resort?". To which she retorted, "Koi haq nahi banta har hafte sabki bezzati karte rahe. Kyunki aap mujhe paisa dete ho mai aapki bull st sunti ra-hoongi har Friday. (You have no right to insult me every week. I am being paid to be on the show but that does not mean I will take the bull st lying down.)" A leading tabloid reported that Sapna had almost emptied her abusive vocabulary and had tagged Salman as a "serial woman-beater". She even said, "If I win the show, I shall buy his painting and gift it to him."

Bhatti's film premieres day after his death

Wearing a green suit, Savita kept crying throughout the movie. She shared: "I wore a white suit, but then everyone told me that we were going to celebrate Jaspalji's achievement. I cannot refer to him in the past tense and I felt him in every frame of the movie."

The grief stricken family and the cine goers of Chandigarh gave an unmatched tribute to the king of comedy and spoof. Jaspal Bhatti, Jaspal got a standing ovation as soon as he appeared on screen during a special premiere on the opening day of his movie "Power Cut" at a multiplex.

As soon as he appeared in his usual comical attire on screen, his family members and fellow artistes, including wife Savita Bhatti, son Jasraj Bhatti, Gurdas Maan, Bhagwant Mann, Harbhajan Mann, Gupreet Singh Ghuggi, Jasbir Jassi and others, gave him a standing ovation followed by cheering from the packed audience. "I am in a different state of mind as I watch his movie, which was his dream project. I will not even dare use past tense for him. He will always remain my friend, philosopher and guide. He will always be around us," said Savita while putting up a brave face before the media just one day after the sudden demise of Bhatti. An emotional Savita said she did not want to cry for her late husband who continued to be her strength. Jasraj, who made his debut with this movie, said it took them just a minute to decide about holding the premiere, which was cancelled yesterday after his sudden death. "This movie was his dream project. Though he is not with us today, his memories and legacy will always remain with us. We will keep alive his passion for meaningful comedy," he said.

Karishma leaves 'Bigg Boss' house following father's death

Model Karishma Kotak, who has been living in the controversial 'Bigg Boss' house ever since she joined the show, has left the house following a tragic incident in her personal life.

Word has it that Karishma's father passed away due to prolonged severe liver sclerosis on Wednesday evening. Karishma was called to the confession room to inform her about her father's sudden demise and was given two options: either stay or leave the show. "Bigg Boss Season 6 contestant Karishma Kotak left the 'Bigg Boss' house after nearly four weeks due to a family emergency. The model had to leave the 'Bigg Boss' house as her father, who was ailing from severe liver sclerosis, passed away last evening," a statement issued by Colors Channel said. Notably, Karishma was nominated for eviction this week among Sampat Lal and Aseem Trivedi.

Pak applies brake on Bhagat Singh chowk in Lahore

Giving in to the pressure from hardline groups like the Jamaat-ud-Dawah and a section of local residents, Pakistani authorities have put on hold a move to rename a roundabout in Lahore after Indian freedom fighter Bhagat Singh. The city district government of Lahore had announced last month that Shadman Chowk would be renamed Bhagat Singh Chowk to acknowledge his revolutionary spirit and his role in the movement against the erstwhile British rulers. District administration chief Noorul Amin Mengal, who made the decision to rename the roundabout, came down hard on officials of his department for not placing a board inscribed with "Bhagat Singh Chowk" at the spot, reported a leading daily from India. However, authorities have still not placed the board at the roundabout and officials on Wednesday said that the move to rename Shadman Chowk had been put on hold. "We received a strongly worded letter from the JuD that warned us not to rename Shadman Chowk after a Hindu freedom fighter. Besides, we also got a negative response from some individuals," an official has been quoted by the daily.

Sonia & Rahul accused of fraud; by Swamy

Janata Party president Subramanian Swamy on Thursday targeted UPA chairperson Sonia and Gandhi and Congress general secretary Rahul Gandhi accusing them of converting a public firm into a private company. He said that Sonia and Rahul formed a private company named Young Indian and acquired a public limited company, the Associated Journals Limited. The Associated Journals Ltd is the owner of National Herald and Quami Awaz newspapers and all high value real estate property in Delhi and other places in Uttar Pradesh associated with it. Swamy alleged that the deal between Young Indian and Associated Journals Ltd was a "fraud committed in order to grab the Herald House in Delhi, that is located in a hub and is valued at about Rs 1600 crore.

Both the Congress and the BJP are in Ambani's pocket." IAC also alleged that Reddy was removed as Petroleum Minister in the Cabinet reshuffle on Sunday because he did not allow Reliance to increase gas prices. It said Veerappa Moily has been brought in "to condone RIL's blackmailing of reducing gas production". He said that if RIL's demand of increasing the gas price to $14.2 is accepted, it would lead to the shutdown of several gas-based power plants and increase in power and fertiliser prices. It would also result in Rs 43,000 crore of additional benefits to RIL. Accusing RIL of hoarding gas, Kejriwal said that former Finance Minister Pranab Mukherjee extended an undue benefit of Rs 8,000 cr to Reliance Industries. According to the anti-corruption activist, Prime Minister Manmohan Singh did not pay heed to the fall in gas output from the oil blocks given to Reliance Industries. Kejriwal said the BJP signed a sweet deal with RIL in 2000, which Congress faithfully implemented. Demanding the cancellation of the KG-D6 contract, IAC also played an audio tape in which Ranjan Bhattacharya (Vajpayee's son-in-law) is heard telling lobbyist Nira Radia tapes that Mukesh Ambani told him - "Congress to ab apni dukaan hai."

SL moves to impeach first woman Chief Justice

The Sri Lankan government on Thursday set in motion process to impeach the country's first woman Chief Justice charging her with "improper conduct" and "over-stepping" limits in an escalating conflict between the Judiciary and the Executive. "The impeachment motion with the required number of signatures of lawmakers was handed over to the Speaker of the Parliament," government spokesman and minister Keheliya Rambukwella told media. However, he didn't specify the charges against Chief Justice Shirani Ban-daranyake. But, sources said the motion charged her with improper behaviour and six other charges. "It is now up to the Speaker to examine the validity of the charges and carry out further action," Rambukwella said. He later told a press conference that the "government believes that the judiciary is over stepping its authority". The move comes in the wake of opposition charges that the Mahinda Rajapaksa government, which commands overwhelmingly majority in Parliament, was indulging in political vendetta against rivals. According to the Constitution, an impeachment motion requires support of at least 75 of the 225 members in the Assembly. Bandaranayake, 54, was appointed the country's first woman chief justice last year and has another 11 years in office unless removed by the impeachment motion.

India-Pak set to revive cricket ties

India's Union Home Ministry has cleared the tour of the Pakistan cricket team to India in December, signalling the resumption of cricketing ties between the two countries after five years. The rivals will engage in three one-day internationals in Chennai, Delhi and Kolkata. They will play two Twenty20 internationals in Bangalore and Ahmedabad from December 25 to January 7. Besides hundreds of cricket enthusiasts crossing the border to watch the matches, the Centre and the BCCI are likely to invite Pakistani digni-taries and former players to be present during the tour. India's last bilateral series against Pakistan was its home series in 2007. The ties snapped after the Mumbai terror attack in November 2008, when Pakistan-trained terrorists killed hundreds in the country's financial capital. However, the two teams have been playing each other in multi-national tournaments, notably the semi-finals of the 2011 ICC Cricket World Cup at Mohali, that was a meeting ground for dignitaries from across the border.

Braves renew McCann, Hudson, Maholm

The Atlanta Braves said they have picked up contract options on all-star catcher Brian McCann as well as pitchers Tim Hudson and Paul Maholm. McCann's deal is for one year at $12 million while team options on Hudson and Maholm were exercised for each of the next two seasons. McCann was rewarded despite hitting a career low .230 while dealing with a nagging shoulder injury. The catcher hit 20 homers and drove in 67 runs over 121 games but could miss the start of next season after undergoing surgery. The 37-year-old Hudson, meanwhile, notched a team-high 16 wins last season while Maholm -- a mid-season pickup from the Chicago Cubs -- went a combined 13-11 with a 3.67 ERA in 2012.

Sachin, Virat, Gavaskar to be honoured

Sachin Tendulkar will be honoured for completing his 100th international century while Virat Kohli will get the Polly Umrigar Award for being India's top international cricketer of 2011-12 at the BCCI Annual Awards ceremony to be held on November 21 in Mumbai. Kohli, who was honoured with the ICC's ODI Cricketer of the Year earlier, will be awarded a trophy and a cheque of Rs 5 lakhs, the BCCI said in a release.

India women beat Pak to lift Asia Cup

The Indian women's cricket team lifted the inaugural Asian Cricket Council's Twenty20 Asia Cup after beating arch-rivals Pakistan by 18 runs in a low-scoring final in Guangzhou, China. India's decision to bat first seemed to have backfired when the team folded for 81 but the bowlers did a splendid job to dismiss Pakistan to 63 in 19.1 overs. What was particularly impressive about the Indian bowlers was their discipline, giving away just a couple of wides from 19.1 overs, which they took to bowl out their opponents.

Day-Night Tests soon

Changes for Twenty20 internationals : One-over per side eliminator; fielding captain or nominated player will select the ball his side wishes to bowl with from the designated box of balls, although no new balls may be used. The team fielding first will have the first choice of ball to be used, however the team bowling second may use the same ball if they so wish.

Changes for ODIs : Powerplays and fielding restrictions; Powerplay blocks have been reduced from three to two. For an uninterrupted innings, the first block will take place during the first 10 overs and only two fielders will be allowed outside the 30-yard circle. The second block of five overs must be completed by the 40th over, at the batting side's discretion. Three fielders are allowed outside the 30-yard circle.

Short-pitched deliveries : Law 42.6 (a) has been amended to allow the bowler to bowl two short-pitched deliveries per over in an ODI.

No-balls (All formats) : After each dismissal not permitted off a no-ball (subject to the availability of technology), the third umpire will check for a front-foot no-ball and advise the standing umpire via a two-way radio.

Dead ball (All formats) : Spydercam - a camera that moves over the field on suspended cables - have been approved, but if the ball, while in play, is hit by the batsman onto the camera or its cables, it will be called a dead ball.

In its latest amendments of the game's playing conditions, the International Cricket Council (ICC) have approved Day-Night Test matches, although the individual member Boards will be left to decide the type and colour of ball to be used.

Furthermore, the governing body also made a host of changes to the playing conditions across all three formats of the game, including fielding restrictions, short-pitched deliveries, Powerplays, Decision Review System (DRS), dead ball, no-balls, over rates and the use of One Over Eliminators in T20s. The changes to the playing conditions have taken effect from October 30, when Sri Lanka played New Zealand in a T20 international in Pallekele.

1984 Sikh riots: AUS MP to file petition in parliament

An Australian politician will table a signed petition in the Parliament asking the government to recognise the 1984 anti-Sikh riots in India as "genocide". A statement issued by federal MP Warren Entsch's office said, "The nation's Sikh community has enlisted the help of Entsch to have Australia recognise the killings as genocide." The issue was first raised by a Sikh Community member in Cairns, Daljit Singh. "Every person on this planet who believes in equality and peace for mankind should support this," Singh said.

Zuma skewers deputy as leadership challenge looms

South African President Jacob Zuma has publically rebuked his deputy Kgalema Motlanthe for talking down the country, as rumours of a leadership challenge mounted. Just hours after deputy president Motlanthe asserted that the ruling ANC is approaching a "tipping point" and admitted that South Africa was in a "rut", Zuma bluntly told journalists that view was "not correct."

STATUE OF LIBERTY REOPENS

The Statue of Liberty has reopened for public viewing after a year-long, 30 million-dollar interior makeover. The mostly federally funded renovation to the 126-year-old Statue of Liberty includes fire-safety and ventilation improvements, better bathrooms, a third elevator and a remodeled staircase with 39 extra steps to make it easier to climb from pedestal to crown.

And, for the first time ever, there is wheelchair access to the top of the pedestal. With the structural improvements, 26,000 more visitors will be able to visit the crown every year, the New York Post reports. "All that makes me confident I can bring my grandparents," Jean-Pascal Mill, 38, a tourist from Lyon, France, who visited the Liberty Island said.

AUSTRALIA TO TEACH HINDI

Declaring that Asia's rise is "unstoppable", Australia has unveiled an ambitious plan aimed at forging deeper links with India and other booming economies of the region, including through teaching languages like Hindi and Mandarin in its schools. "While Australia was changing — Asia was changing too. Whatever else this century brings, it will bring Asia's return to global leadership, Asia's rise," said Prime Minister Julia Gillard. "All Australian schools will engage with at least one school in Asia to support the teaching of a priority Asian language — Mandarin, Hindi, Indonesian or Japanese."

Truce bid fails in Syria

At least 22 people were killed in clashes between Syrian rebels and Kurdish militia men in Aleppo, Syria's largest city. The fighting broke out despite a truce brokered in honour of the Muslim festival Eid al-Adha, which was also broken in other areas with bombings and clashes. The clashes occurred after rebels pushed into Kurdish and Christian areas that have remained quiet during the three-month battle for the city.

PROTEIN BEHIND BAD CHOLESTEROL

Canadian scientists have nailed a protein behind high levels of bad cholesterol (low-density lipoprotein or LDL), elevating the risk of heart disease. The research proves that the protein in question, resistin, secreted by fat tissue, increases the production of LDL in human liver cells and also degrades LDL receptors in the liver, hampering the organ from clearing "bad" cholesterol.

Mowed

The man passed out as he came out of his front door onto the porch. Someone dialed 911.
 When the paramedics arrived, they helped him regain consciousness and asked if he knew what caused him to faint.
 "It was enough to make anybody faint," he said. "My son asked me for the keys to the garage, and instead of driving the car out, he came out with the lawn mower."

Simple Feng Shui Tips...

■ Furniture placement

inside kitchens:
 It is advisable not to place fire and water elements next to each other or confronting each other. Thus the fridge or washing machine (which signifies the water element) should not be placed next to or directly opposite the stove where open flames occur each time food is cooked. The sink should also not be next to the fire nor be directly opposite it.

■ Extension to the house:
 If you build extensions to the house, you must consider the effect of such extensions to the overall shape of the home. Certain shape combinations are beneficial, while others are not. Also examine the element of the new extension based on where it is located.

This means the directional sector is occupies. Check if the element represented by the extension is beneficial for the existing building, but ensuring that the element of the extension sector produces or at least does not harm, the element of the main door direction.
Example 1: If the extension is located in the South corner, it will be a fire element extension if the main door is located in the West, then the fire element of the extension destroys the metal element of the main door. If the main door is located in the Southwest. However, the fire element will produce the earth element of the main door

Example 2: If the extension is in the Southeast, it is a wood element extension. If the main door is in the South, it belongs to the fire element. The extension of wood feeds the element of the door (i.e. fire) so the effect is auspicious.

Consult with a Feng Shui Consultant before you decide to add extension or do renovations.
